

A word from the boss...!

Here at MTH we do our utmost to provide the best possible prices and personal service. Because this is important to us I'm also writing this article personally, and putting a face to the name behind MTH.

2010 was, financially, a difficult year for much of the public as well as traders, businesses and retailers. While recognising a niche market and providing hands on, personal and practical advice, we've hopefully delighted all our customers. We've expanded our business to the point of opening a new depot near Sheffield in February 2011, at the same time moving our Staveley Depot to better premises and launching our brand new corporate logo.

During times when it's predicted that the UK economy may slow this year, our cost saving initiatives and investment in new plant have simply benefited our customers and increased our turnover. Thank you for your business last year, and we look forward to a successful, though challenging 2011.

MTH Tool Hire Staveley move to other premises in 2011

To be honest we're short of space! The main road location at Lowgates has been a great place to work from, but parking and access were always an issue.

The new location will provide better parking, plus easier off loading with fork lift and vehicle access. Rest assured all our email addresses and telephone numbers etc will remain the same.

MTH Tool Hire is on Twitter and Facebook

We regularly update both our Twitter and Facebook accounts. Please do follow us, add comments and suggestions or DIY hints and tips.

New tool hire depot to open in Sheffield area early 2011

MTH Tool Hire are opening a new depot in the Sheffield area to be open early 2011, with a target date of February, and we're presently negotiating for a premises in Dinnington. This will provide better coverage for our customers in Sheffield, Rotherham and Worksop, and our hire fleet is being improved to accommodate this extra depot.
